Scope and Coverage

The National Library of Australia is the largest reference library of Australia, responsible under the terms of the National Library Act for "maintaining and developing a national collection of library material, including a comprehensive collection of library material relating to Australia and the Australian people."

In 2012–2013 the Library collection comprised 6,496,772 items, with an estimated additional 2,325,900 items held in the manuscripts collection. The Library's collections of Australiana have developed into the nation's single most important resource of materials recording the Australian cultural heritage. Australian writers, editors and illustrators are actively sought and well represented—whether published in Australia or overseas. The Library's collection includes all formats of material, from books, journals, websites and manuscripts to pictures, photographs, maps, music, oral history recordings, manuscript papers and ephemera. Approximately 92.1% of the Library's collection has been catalogued and is discoverable through the online catalogue.

Kind of Information

At the home page of the catalog, there is a search bar. One can search the collection by choosing the field (Title, Author, Subject, Call Number, ISBN/ISSN, Bib ID, and Occupation) from the list. There is also an option to add limits to the search results by choosing the material types. There is a pull down menu under the heading “Add limits” with the options like Audio, Book, Newspaper, Journal, Manuscript, Map, Microform, Music, NLA digitized material, Object, Online, Picture, Video, Kit. The following screen shot is an example of this search process:

Advanced Search

In advanced search process users can moderate their search queries by different ways, like can putting maximum four search terms and can attach these by Boolean queries; there is an option to choose one specific bibliographic field from top down menu.

Advanced Search

Search For

Find:	<input type="text"/>	all of these	in	All Fields
AND	<input type="text"/>	any of these	in	All Fields
AND	<input type="text"/>	any of these	in	All Fields
AND	<input type="text"/>	any of these	in	All Fields

Limit To

Format:	<input type="text" value="-- Add limits --"/>
Language:	<input type="text" value=""/> (start typing to see options)
Date published between:	<input type="text" value="YYYY"/> and <input type="text" value="YYYY"/> inclusive
<small>For a single year, enter the same year in both boxes. For an open-ended range</small>
<input type="button" value="Find"/>

The search queries have produced a list of materials with hyperlinked titles. The search results initially give small range of bibliographic information, like title of the document, author, place of publication, publisher, and year of publication. The titles are hyperlinked with another web page where detail bibliographic information on that document, like Bib ID, format of the document, Author, Description (place of publication, publisher, year of publication, physical description), ISBN, Notes, Subjects, Form/genre. The following screen shot is an example of an entry with full bibliographic details:

Special Features

- The Library has digitized over 174,000 items from its collection (the 100,000th being <http://nla.gov.au/nla.pic-vn3409117>) and, where possible, delivers these directly across the Internet. The Library is a world leader in digital preservation techniques, and maintains an Internet-accessible archive of selected Australian websites called the Pandora Archive.
- The Library also maintains the National Reserve Braille Collection.

- The Library houses the largest and most actively developing research resource on Asia in Australia, and the largest Asian language collections (Burmese, Chinese, Persian, Indonesian, Japanese, Khmer, Korean, Lao, Manchu, Mongolian, Thai, Timorese, and Vietnamese) in the Southern hemisphere, with over half a million volumes in the collection, as well as extensive online and electronic resources. The Asian Collections are searchable via the National Library's catalogue.
- The mobile catalogue is available to download for free from the App Store for Apple product users, and Google Play for Android users.

Arrangement Pattern

By default the search result are arranged by relevance. One can also sort the result by date of publication (from oldest to newest and vice versa), author's name (alphabetically from A to Z and vice versa), title of the material (alphabetically from A to Z and vice versa) etc.

Remarks

The National Library of Australia provides a national leadership role in developing and managing collaborative online services with the Australian library community, making it easier for users to find and access information resources at the national level. To fulfill this it maintains a catalogue of the resources in its own collection which are available to the general public.
