

Home Page
LogoURL

<http://www.college.police.uk/What-we-do/Standards/Pages/College-Digest.aspx>

Subjects

Law – England – Digest
Law – Wales – Digest

Accessibility

Partially Free

Language

English

Publisher

College of Policing Limited

Brief History

The College of Policing was established in 2012 as the professional body for everyone who works for the police service in England and Wales.

Scope and Coverage

The Digest provides the latest news on matters relating to operational policing practice and criminal justice. It is an invaluable resource for those responsible for strategic decision-making, operational planning, and police and law enforcement training. It is particularly informative for students and operational officers, as well as those involved in other areas outside of policing or those who have an interest in policing and criminal justice. It contains summaries of the key developments in police law and practice, including: new legislation, statutory instruments and case law, recently published government reports and initiatives, and latest statistical bulletins.

Kind of Information

College of Policing Digest provides laws and legal issues related information. In this tool entries are available with its title and brief description. Each entry appeared under a particular area (like legislation, crime etc). Primary source of the entry is sometime available with a particular entry (article, Govt. report, notice, circular etc). An example is given below under main area 'Legislation' for understanding.

Digest April 2017

Legislation

Bills before Parliament

Prison and Courts Bill

The Prison and Courts Bill was introduced into the House of Commons on 23 February 2017. The purpose of the Bill is to reform prisons and courts by setting a new framework and clear system of accountability in the prison system, strengthening safety and security, improving efficiency and services for users in courts and tribunals and reforming the claims process for minor whiplash injuries resulting from road traffic accidents. A summary of the Bill can be found in the March edition of the Digest.

Progress

A special report from the Prisons and Courts Public Bill Committee as to their opinion that they could not with advantage proceed further with the Bill. This is in view of time available to allow the Bill to be considered by the House following the House's decision on Wednesday 19 April that, in accordance with section 2(2) of the Fixed-term Parliaments Act 2011, there should be an early parliamentary general election and the dissolution of Parliament expected on Wednesday 3 May.

Please see services.parliament.uk

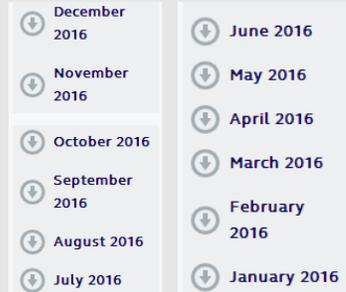

Month wise digests are available in pdf format in college of policing digest. User can download that pdf version of the digest.

Special Features

- Information regarding the Freedom of Information present.
- Contact and feedback option available with proper form.
- Information about fitness standards and police training rules available.

Arrangement Pattern

The digest archives are arranged according to month wise under a particular year. Within a particular month entries are arranged according to publication date wise. An example is given below.

(pdf version of digest)

Remarks

The purpose of this tool is to provide information for those, who working in policing with the skills and knowledge necessary to prevent crime, protect the public, and secure public trust.

Comparable Tools

- Weekly News Digest for Legal Career Professionals (<http://www.nalp.org/newsdigest>)
- Bangladesh Law Digest (BDLD) (<https://bdlawdigest.org/>)

Date of Access

May 12, 2017