Garden related articles are written by the team of expert gardeners. Daily posts include everything from beginner gardening tips to in-depth articles on botany and landscaping. Each of those articles is given with relevant photograph, date, name of the author etc. Such as:

Creating A Potager Garden

by Carole Menser (Cville_Gardener) July 31, 2017

The word potager comes from the Middle English word pottage meaning something in or from a pot. Potage is an Old French word denoting a thick, meatless, vegetable soup. Read More

The 'Gardenology' is considered as a knowledge base of 3,507 garden terms compiled by gardeners and farmers from around the world. They've shared their plant knowledge and expertise in 4,753 definitions, tips, and techniques. Here one term can be defined by different experts in different ways.

The 'Insectipedia' can be considered as an insect & bug dictionary and name guide of the same. Insectipedia is a reference guide containing an alphabetical list of botanical (latin) words for insects and bugs, with information given for each word, usually including the etymology (i.e., history and/or origin) and pronunciation. An example is shown below:

Insectipedia: Bombus

Meaning: From the Greek bombos (buzzing or deep sound)

Pronunciation: BOM-bus

Registered users can view all trade lists from where they can know about all the lists of seeds and plants that are available for trading by the members of DG. They can manage their own trade list at this page also. Discussion forums for plant and seed trading can help them in this case.

List of members under each country and each state of U.S. can be seen also with their date of joining.
