Brief History

Subject to research

Scope and Coverage

It covers information on the job sites of different countries and of different industries. Their reference directory covers information on careers and employment, training and education, job fairs, recruitment, staffing, careers profiles, job references and career guide.

Kind of Information

Information are mainly given in some categories. Those are career planning, changing careers, counseling & management, directories, job fairs, job references, job search, outplacement, outsourcing, recruitment & staffing, resumes & portfolios, surveys & statistics, training & education etc.

Under the above said broad categories, some sub categories can also be found. After clicking on each of those sub categories, region wise results can be seen. Hyperlinks of the related sites are provided with a brief description. As for example, 'job fairs' is the main category and national job fair is its sub category. It shows following result :

- Brass Ring, Inc.
