| Brief History	MyGov (launch in September 2014) is a citizen engagement platform founded by the Government of India to promote the active participation of Indian citizens in their country's governance and development.

Scope and Coverage	As many as 215,000 users were enrolled to MyGov and more than 28,000 users submitted their detailed plans and ideas on a variety of issues. Within 50 days of its inception, more than 23,000 entries were received for seven different government Ministries in addition to the Prime Minister's Office through the Creative Corner section alone. It covers under Government of India.
Kind of Information	There are various pre-defined groups to which users can selectively subscribe to. The objective of each group is to bring positive changes to the relevant area with people's participation. The users can select up to 4 groups with which they may remain engaged. In each group, users are provided with 2 domains, 'Do' and 'Discuss'. The 'Do' section includes both online and on-ground tasks for which contributors may assign themselves. The 'discuss' section may be used for discussing different relevant issues affecting the nation. It may also be used for providing vital information regarding the topic and also suggest and propose new ideas. The users are also awarded activity points based upon their individual contributions. In this platform visitors can get information about Prime Minister's speech through All Talks Under Mann Ki Baat. All of them can be listen through YouTube.

Visitors can also share their thoughts for the Prime Minister's Radio address.

All Discussions Under Open Forum contains the comments of visitors. Visitors can share their thought against each Maan Ki Baat topic.
All Tasks Under Creative Corner are shown here. The creative corner is aimed at receiving creative inputs such as logo creation, wallpaper designs etc. from the public.

The users are allowed to upload their proposals on the relevant topics. The users are allowed to vote on the proposals too. Though the final results are not based on the votes, the votes is also considered during the selection process by the selection committee. Thousands of inputs have been received to date. Each of them are comes with brief description about the topic & gives opportunity to comment visitor's thought or idea for the topic. Such as…
