

Home Page

The screenshot shows the 'UIC Image Collections' page. At the top, there's a dark blue navigation bar with the UIC logo, 'University Library', and links for 'UIC.edu', 'Campus Map', 'Contact Us', 'My Accounts', and 'Give to the Library'. Below this is a secondary navigation bar with 'HELP', 'COLLECTIONS', 'LIBRARIES', and 'ABOUT'. The 'COLLECTIONS' section is expanded, showing a list of categories: Articles, Books & Media, Digital Images (with 'UIC Image Collections' selected), Maps & GIS, Special Collections & University Archives, and Theses, Dissertations & UIC Publications. The main content area has a breadcrumb trail: 'Collections > Digital Images > UIC Image Collections'. The title 'UIC Image Collections' is prominently displayed. Below it, a paragraph states: 'The UIC Library provides access to over 60,000 digitized images, largely drawn from the Library's archives. These images cover topics such as the University's history and medical history, but focus mainly on Chicago-area history and culture.' A tip follows: 'You can search or browse most of UIC's digitized images using CARLI Digital Collections. Access to individual image collections is included below. Note that some collections may also include digital audio and video or digitized documents.' A sub-section titled 'Images of Chicago history' contains the text: 'Explore Chicago Collections includes most of the UIC Library's historical Chicago images as well as thousands of images from other Chicago-area libraries. The individual UIC image collections included in Explore Chicago Collections are listed below:' and a bullet point for 'Bowen Country Club Collection' with the description 'Images from the Hull House summer camp, 1912-1963.' A 'Chat with a Librarian' button is visible in the bottom right corner.

Logo

URL

http://library.uic.edu/collections/digital-images/uic-image-collections

Subject

United States - Photograph collections

Accessibility

Free

Language

English

Publisher

The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois, Federal Depository Library for U.S. Government Documents

Brief History

Subject to research

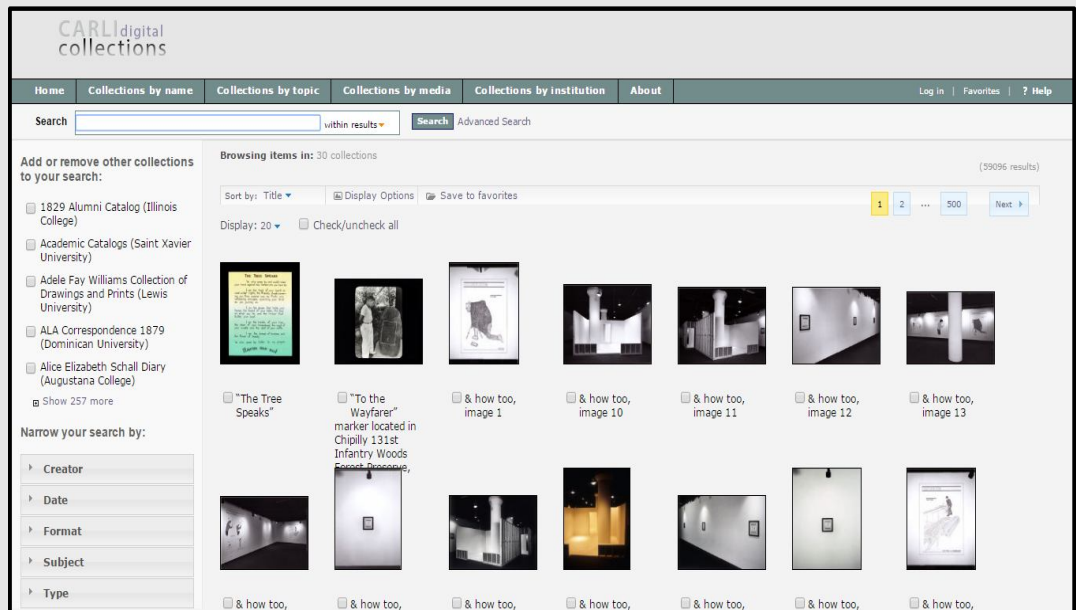

Scope and Coverage

The UIC Library covers images of Chicago history, Medical images and Other images from the Library's collections.

Kind of Information

The UIC Library provides access to over 60,000 digitized images, largely drawn from the Library's archives. These images cover topics such as the University's history and medical history, but focus mainly on Chicago-area history and culture.

Users can search or browse most of UIC's digitized images using CARLI Digital Collections.

UIC Image Collections provides access to individual image collections, these are as below –

Images of Chicago history:

Chicago Collections includes most of the UIC Library's historical Chicago images as well as thousands of images from other Chicago-area libraries. The individual UIC image collections included in Explore Chicago Collections are listed below.

As for example,

Images of Chicago history

Explore Chicago Collections includes most of the UIC Library's historical Chicago images as well as thousands of images from other Chicago-area libraries. The individual UIC image collections included in Explore Chicago Collections are listed below:

- Bowen Country Club Collection
Images from the Hull House summer camp, 1912-1963.
- Building UIC: The Facilities Collection
Images of the construction of the UIC Circle campus.
- Century of Progress World's Fair, 1933-1934
1,500 photographs from the 1933 World's Fair.
- Chicago Aerial Photo Services (CAPS)
A small selection from the Library's collection of aerial photos of the Chicago area.
- Chicago Area Pharmacy Photographs
Taken in 1955.
- Chicago – Photographic Images of Change
Over 27,000 images from the Library's James S. Parker Collection and the Chicago Photographic Collection document the city's neighborhoods and built environment from the 1890s to the 1970s.
- Chicago Urban League Photos
Images from the African American social service, research, and advocacy organization.

Medical images:

As for example,

Medical images

- Chicago Area Pharmacy Photographs
Taken in 1955
- College of Medicine Class Photos
Yearbook images from the 1880s to the early 1900s.
- Embellished Medical Title Pages: The 16th through 18th Centuries
- Florence Nightingale Letters
- Illinois Training School for Nurses
200 images of the nursing school and of Cook County Hospital between 1883 and 1929.
- Percival Bailey Brain Specimens
Over 200 images of plastic embedded normal and pathological brain specimens.

Other images from the Library's collections:

As for example,

Other images from the Library's collections

- H. D. Carberry Caribbean Studies Collection
Over 500 digitized book jackets from the Library's outstanding collection of Caribbean literature.
- Sheet music collection
Nearly 2000 images of sheet music covers from the late 19th and early 20th century.
- Sierra Leone Documents and Images, 1792-1825
Digitized documents from the Library's Sierra Leone collection.

Special Features

- ❖ Quick and advanced search facilities are available here.
- ❖ Users can search images with this topics

- ❖ Full descriptions, like title, type, form, physical description, are available with every images.
- ❖ Users can narrow their search using these options

Arrangement Pattern All images are arranged categorically. Three broad categories available here, these are –

- Images of Chicago history
- Medical images
- Other images from the Library’s collections

Remarks The UIC Library’s image archives collects images from City of Chicago. All the images are easily accessible and these are valuable to the researchers or a student who want to study about the history of Chicago.

Comparable Tools

- Photograph and Image Collections of Smithsonian Institution Archives
(<https://siarchives.si.edu/services/photograph-and-image-collections>)
- Photo Archives of United States Holocaust Memorial Museum
(<http://digitalassets.ushmm.org/photoarchives/>)

Date of Access May 18, 2017