Brief History

Since its founding as a monthly collection of recommended titles more than 50 years ago, Choice has become the go-to source for librarians seeking worthwhile new titles for their collection.

Scope and Coverage

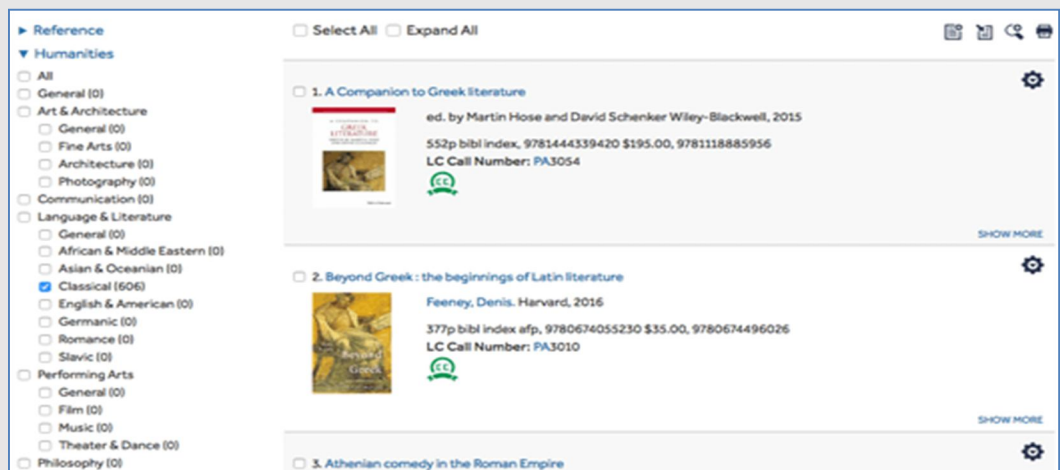

Most academic libraries in the United States use Choice for selecting and purchasing materials. According to the ACRL, Choice reaches 24,000 librarians and an estimated 13,000 higher education faculty in almost every undergraduate college and university library in the United States, along with many larger public libraries, and special and governmental libraries.

Its publication offers 600 reviews every month, identifying the best new books and digital content in academia. Reviews are published monthly in Choice magazine and ChoiceReviews.online. Choice publishes approximately 7,000 reviews per year in 50 sub-disciplines spanning the humanities, science and technology, and the social and behavioural sciences.

The new, completely rebuilt Choice Reviews gives subscribers immediate access to a comprehensive archive of almost 200,000 reviews representing a quarter-century of scholarship.
